Explains His Support of Underwood and Ryan Incident at Convention.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Buckingham, Va., September 11.—Circuit Court in a session here this week, Congressman H. D. Flood opened the campaign here on yesterday, making a speech in a crowded house. After giving an account of his stewardship as a member of Congress for the past two years, Mr. Flood took up the good roads measure, the tariff question and the parcels post bill. He then explained why he had voted as he did on the Underwood, Ryan and Ryan incident, and incidentally explained his action in the Baltimore convention when the Virginia delegation in the national convention, taking umbrage at the action of the Virginia delegation, elected Mr. Flood as an accredited delegate from Virginia, chose him (Flood) to defend them from the aspersion cast in the New York statement, Mr. Flood said that he did not think that a man was worthy to be elected to office unless he was worthy to be elected to office in politics, but that he did not think that a man was worthy to be elected to office unless he was worthy to be elected to office in politics.

PASSENGER TRAIN HELD UP BY REBELS

Can. The rebels may not be entrained at El Paso after all. Officials here are reluctant to give the rebels the advantage of knowing in advance where the Federal train will enter the United States, the time of their entrapment or at what point they are likely to cross into Mexico. It had been planned to take them from El Paso to Douglas, but there is an indication that this plan may not be carried out.

The supply of food and ammunition for the Federal train is being hurried to the hands of American soldiers in Northern Mexico for their own protection was reported to-day from El Paso, north of Naco.

Rebel raiding along the border is expected to be ended by the Mexican Federalists who are being permitted to cross Texas and New Mexico at attack the insurgents along the frontiers of Chihuahua and Sonora.

CHAMPION'S WIFE TRIES TO END LIFE

Chicago, September 11.—The white wife of Jack Johnson, the world's champion heavy weight pugilist, attempted to commit suicide tonight by jumping overboard from a boat on Lake Michigan.

She was taken to a hospital where she was held in a room where she was held. The bullet passed through her head.

She had been in ill health for a year and a half, and her condition was such for several months that her physician, employed two maids to watch her continually.

Johnson, in the hope that a change of climate would benefit her, had planned to take her with him to Las Vegas, N. M. He was about to purchase the tickets and when he returned he found her on the floor with a bullet wound in her head.

Mrs. Johnson was removed to a hospital where an examination revealed that the bullet had passed through her head. According to the two maids who were in the room when she shot herself, she was seized with despair shortly after her husband left to procure the railroad tickets.

While the maids' attention was directed, she is said to have opened a drawer in a cabinet and seized a revolver. She pointed it at her head, but before she could pull the trigger the maids seized her. She fought desperately to keep the gun, and in the struggle it fell to the floor.

PECK FRACTURES SKULL

Holder of American Duration Flight Record.

Chicago, September 11.—Aviator Paul Peck, of Washington, D. C., holder of the American duration flight record, was fatally injured in a fall with a biplane tonight while flying in a heavy wind.

He attempted to stop a race and when he was struck by the wreckage, striking him in the neck and fracturing his skull, and he was internally injured.

A heavy wind blew at Cleveo Field all day, and Director Andrew Drew took the precaution of warning to aviators against going up. Peck, however, took his small biplane and he was not able to carry him through the air.

At about 500 feet altitude he started to make a loop, but he was struck by the wreckage of his biplane, which was flying in a heavy wind.

His real difficulty did not become apparent until he was within 200 feet of the ground. He would have escaped with minor injuries, Director Drew and his technical committee decided, but it was too late.

Peck was taken to St. Anthony's Hospital. He is an American licensed aviator, and he developed a monoplane and the biplane in which he was injured. The biplane was of only 100 feet span, but it was a monoplane, and it was a monoplane.

FATHER AND SON SENTENCED TO DIE

into inaction every mind not prepared to anticipate it. Yet, without the least surprise or hesitation, your associates instantly began with you this deadly work, began it with a promptness and pushed it with a persistence and effectiveness which, to every unbiased mind carries the undeniable conviction of anticipation and co-operation. Numerous other facts clearly proven confirm this conviction, but the elements of instantaneous and fatally effective concentration, standing alone and of themselves, eliminate all reasonable doubt of a common understanding of a mutual and felonious purpose.

Facts Fall Literally.

The facts relied upon for the execution of the plan of your conduct have failed to carry out their purpose. You have contended that the clock of that court, while you were in its custody, endeavored to open its eyes on you. You failed to show any motive for such conduct, or its part or to give any explanation why he should have done so. It is not so utterly unexplainable and so necessarily fatal to himself. There is scarcely a scintilla of evidence to confirm this statement made by each of you. Yet every rule of law, which would have been applicable if your statement had been fully corroborated, was invoked and allowed for your benefit. Upon every doubtful question of law you have each of you been favored, yet the result is your conviction.

It is for no other reason, no will, no act of the jury or the court that the judgment is entered against you. The consequence of such conduct was by the law written long before that day of fatal action, that consequence was certain and inevitable to you unless a jury should have failed to accept the facts as they actually occurred.

As your conduct was of your choice so the consequence is of your own creation, and it is in reality your own hand which writes the judgment of this court.

I am not saying these things to reproach or distress you. This hour is too solemn for you and for me to permit any impulse of feeling to be entertained towards you except of the deepest sympathy. I want you each to realize that your own hands have done this. You have each of you chosen to do this, and you have each of you chosen to do this.
